Short description of contribution for PUB#789 (to be completed for each IEC requesting co-authorship)

Adriana Mancini Pires was involved in the search for the isolated neutron star candidates and helped to secure all the follow-up observations. At this time, she was still a full member of the consortium.

Baoda Li and Dejiang Yin did most of the data analysis of the secured FAST observations and prepared the subsequent sections in the paper manuscript.

Zhongli Zhang helped to secure the FAST observations, is involved in the FAST data analysis and contributed in the paper preparation
